

College of Science
Mathematics Department
University of Tehran
Enghelab Avenue.
Tehran, Iran

To whom it may concern,

2024/01/29

I am pleased to recommend Mr. Saman Sanati for admission to your graduate program. Saman was my student during his BSc program for a mathematics degree. He has been one of the outstanding students of my Advanced Programming course.

During his studies, he showed that he has many abilities and talents in the field of programming. He has well understood the basic concepts of programming and has been able to apply them in a practical way. He is interested, diligent and committed to study. He is always present in class and actively participates in discussions. Also, he has been able to implement his academic projects creatively and with high quality using modern technologies. In addition, he has a strong teamwork spirit and always helps his colleagues. He enjoys sharing ideas and experiences with others and is very communicative. His and his teammate's final project was analyzing Spotify data. In this project, he proved that he has the ability to do team work well and is punctual and committed to group work.

I believe that Saman Sanati, due to his knowledge, effort and talent in the field of programming, can easily act as a competent professional programmer in higher education and seek greater success.

Sincerely yours,

Amirhoshang Hoseinpour Dehkordi, PhD
Email : Amir.hoseinpour@ipm.ir